

Volunteer Website Coordinator - Moggill Creek Catchment Group

MCCG is looking for a volunteer website coordinator to join our team. So, if you enjoy working with computers, have an interest in local environmental matters and would like to have some fun with a like-minded group of people in a well-established community conservation group, we'd love to hear from you!

What's involved:

The website is our key mode of communicating and promoting MCCG within the broader community. You'd need to enjoy gathering material relevant to the group's activities and interests, interacting in particular with the Public Relations Officer, the Secretary and other members of MCCG's Management Committee. You will also edit material and publish it on the website.

The aim is to keep the website current, interesting and informative!

The role can be undertaken at home via email, internet and phone, with optional attendance once a month at a Catchment Committee meeting held at The Cottage in Gold Creek Road.

Training in the use of the web package (Business Catalyst) will be provided.

If you are interested: Please contact the MCCG Secretary on 3374 1518 or email mccgsecretary@live.com

About MCCG...

MCCG is committed to restoring the waterways and bushland in its Catchment and does this via on-ground restoration projects, environmental monitoring and environmental education activities. For a full outline of MCCG's aims, objectives and activities take a look at our website - <http://www.moggillcreek.org/>